

Geet Dhanota, M.A.

Human Resource Assistant

Jyoti, better known professionally as Geet, is a self-published author renowned for her exploration of taboo subjects within South Asian communities. Recognizing a notable absence of Punjabi representation in literature, she embarked on a mission to rectify this disparity by featuring Punjabi protagonists in her works. Geet's dedication to amplifying underrepresented voices has led her to publish 14 books, with her 15th book set to release in Fall 2024. Each of her works offers unique and compelling narratives that resonate with readers worldwide. Her literary contributions, accessible through the Amazon platform, have garnered attention for their cultural authenticity and depth.

In addition to her writing, Geet is the HR Assistant at Mylestones and the first in her family to graduate with a master's degree. She earned her Master of Arts in Communication Studies from the University of the Pacific, Class of 2021 and has a minor in journalism from Stanislaus State University. All of Geet's works are available for purchase on Amazon.
